Wednesday:
House takes up amendments to farm relief bill.
Senate continues consideration of its farm bill with debenture provision.

House ways and means committee Republicans continue work on tariff bill.

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON

Washington, April 24—(AP)—Immigration, prohibition, flood relief and the host of other proposals pushed before the senate in the early days of the extra session have settled behind the administration's restricted program now underway and face a doubtful future.

Senator Hefflin of Alabama, however, showed the senate yesterday that the plan for a restricted session may be applicable to legislation but not to debate. He held the floor two hours appealing for adoption of a resolution condemning the treatment accorded him at Brockton, Massachusetts, where he made a Ku Klux Klan speech March 18, but the farm relief bill got a start and the resolution was put aside.

Farm Relief First
Farm relief, which reached the amendment stage in the house today, has first place on the administration program in the senate. How long this debate will run is problematical. After it ends, the administration bills for the 1930 census and reapportionment of the house will be awaiting next attention.

Defeated in their first test, President Hoover's supporters in opposition to the national origins provision of the immigration law were looking ahead today to the conclusion of the farm debate before renewing in earnest their battle for repeal.

The senate immigration committee yesterday voted 4 to 2 to postpone indefinitely the bills for repeal. A motion is pending in the senate to discharge the committee and get the bills before the senate, but little hope was held for a roll call on this move until the farm fight is over.

Delay Reserve Board Probe
Meanwhile, the threats of debate in the senate over the credit situation, involving the federal reserve board's efforts to curb loans for speculation in Wall Street, have failed to materialize bills and resolutions for investigations are in some of the senatorial desk, but they have been withheld pending developments.

With the house showing no intention of relenting from its plan to organize into the few committees necessary to initiate the farm relief and tariff legislation, senate leaders have not called any committee meetings there for consideration of the numerous propositions introduced.

Resort Owner Shot In Second Robbery
Granite City, Ill., April 24—(AP)—For the second time in two months, Fred Lee, 48, resort owner near Granite City, was wounded last night in a shooting at his resort.
In a hospital here, Lee said he was shot by one of three men who held him up and obtained $1,000 in jewelry and cash. He is suffering from a bullet wound in his shoulder. Lee was shot and seriously wounded in February in what he said was another holdup. At that time he said he "shot it out" with Lester Squires and Leo Prater, whom he accused of having attempted to rob him. All three men were wounded in the exchange of shots. Lee later swore out warrants for Squires and Prater but the charges were dropped when he refused to prosecute.

Claim $26,000 From Rep. Brown Estate
Ottawa, Ill., April 24—(AP)—Hearing on the $26,000 claim against the estate of the late Lee O'Neil Browne, filed by relatives of James Murray, who was convicted several months ago for participation in the Roundout, Ill., mail robbery, has been set for May 6.

The document asserted that the claim represented a prepaid and unearned legal fee given to Browne in 1925 when he was retained to seek Murray's release from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. The plaintiffs are Mrs. Jennie Murray, Murray's wife; Michael Murray, his father; and Mrs. Nellie Murray, his stepmother.

CALIFORNIA MAN
HAS DEATH RAY
INVENTION MADEThree Million Volts of Lightning Produced
by His Machine

Seattle, April 24—(AP)—The ascertained existence and operation in San Francisco of a potential death ray machine, producing 3,000,000 volts of man made lightning and said to be capable of developing twice that power, stirred the imagination of engineers here today.

Announcement of the invention was made simultaneously in San Francisco and Seattle yesterday. C. H. Melsome-Smith, an engineer of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company in San Francisco, declared the machine, invented by Hector M. Hassell, former Seattle wireless instructor, was housed somewhere in the California city, but refused to say where.

John T. Martin, president of the Marjohm Mines Company, said the machine was being used to refine ores.

Martin declared the invention was a death ray only in the sense that it produced enormous destructive power. He said its primary function was to operate commercially. Martin declared the machine had thrown a spark thirteen feet and that its power would be capable of jumping a gap 30 feet between terminals. The machine thus apparently has power to destroy life or disintegrate any solutions placed in its path.

Brookhart Breaks
With Hoover Over
Farm Relief Plan

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 24—(UP)—Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, leading campaigner for President Hoover in the farm belt, broke with Mr. Hoover in a speech to the Senate today, urging that Congress disregard the President and prepare to pass "a real farm bill" over his veto.

Brookhart accused Mr. Hoover of breaking his campaign pledges to the farmers and took the position that Congress should carry out the pledges by adopting legislation to place agriculture on an equal economic footing with industry.

The speech opened the second day of debate on the administration bill in the Senate as the House was preparing to vote upon amendments to a similar bill with hopes of passing it before night.

Claims Difference
Brookhart told how he had made 200 speeches for Mr. Hoover during the campaign. In these speeches he said he read the Republican platform and the acceptance speech of Mr. Hoover promising equality. He contended the statements in the platform and in the acceptance and St. Louis speeches of Mr. Hoover differed materially from his message at the opening of the special session of congress.

POLICE REPORT ON YEAR'S ACTIVITY
MADE TO COUNCILViolations of Prohibition Form Chief Item of the Report

An idea of the success or failure of prohibition in Dixon during the twelve month period which marks the city's fiscal year and which closes Friday, is gleaned from the annual report of Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber, which was filed with the city council last evening. During the year just closed almost half of the activity of the police department has been due to liquor violations in some form. The report shows that 97 arrests made on drunkenness charges which heads the list of police activities. This figure provides an average of 14 arrests monthly.

Next in the list is the violation of the prohibition law which covers the offenses of transporting and possessing intoxicating liquor for which the police department made 24 arrests during the year. There were 15 cases recorded in the report for the offense of driving an automobile while in an intoxicated condition. Disturbing the peace, disorderly conduct and breaking glass in the street are other charges, which according to Chief Van Bibber, are the outgrowth of violations of the prohibition law.

Many Cars Are Stolen.
Chief Van Bibber's report for the year also shows the largest number of automobiles stolen from the streets of the city in years, the total being 34 cars. Of this number, however, the department was successful in recovering 31 machines and also eight cars which had been stolen elsewhere and abandoned either in or adjacent to the city.

For the twelve month period, a total of $22,363.67 worth of property was reported to the department to have been stolen, and of this amount, it is estimated that the police recovered property valued at $19,650.19 which had been lost in Dixon and elsewhere.

The activity of the department in making arrests brought into the city coffers the sum of $3,446.01 collected in fines. Last September was the banner month of the year in which 48 arrests were made and a total of $513.20 was collected by the city in fines.

A total of 1,464 transients were accommodated with lodging in the city jail during the year. The itemized report of Chief Van Bibber as received by the city council last evening, is as follows:

BEIER TO BUILD
ADJOINING CITY HALL ON NORTH
Plan to Widen E. Second Street Considered by City Council

Legal notice was served on the city council at its regular weekly session last evening, notifying that body that excavation was to be started today or at an early date on the vacant lot north of the city hall for the erection of a building. Arthur Beier presented the notice to the council and stated that Contractor Harshman of Sterling had been awarded the contract for the building which when completed will join the city hall on the north.

Mr. Beier has appeared before the council on several occasions since the first of the year seeking to be permitted to use the north wall of the city hall in his proposed building project and asking the price fixed by the city. After a survey, and the figures were made known, other overtures were made to the council and last evening the legal notice to the council was presented. With the construction of a new building north of the city hall on the vacant lot, the front of which for years has been beautified by sign boards, it will be necessary for the city to take immediate steps to reinforce the underground wall and plans to do this are to be launched at once.

NEW ERA DAWNS
IN KANE'S DRY
LAW ACTIVITIESState's Attorney Says
He Has Learned by DeKing Death

BULLETIN
Geneva, Ill., April 24—(UP)—Before a grand jury which may indict his mother's slayer on charges of manslaughter, 12-year-old Gerald DeKing today recited the story of the dry law on his parents' home last month in which Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith clubbed his father and killed his mother.

Gerald's father, Joseph DeKing, also appeared before the grand jury which is investigating the killing. Deputy Smith still is in a hospital recovering from the bullet wound in his leg where he was shot by the DeKing boy. He has been held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter upon recommendations of a Coroner's jury which found the shooting to be unjustified.

BY ALLEN DALRYMPLE
Associated Press Staff Writer
Geneva, Ill., April 24—(AP)—A new era in prohibition enforcement dawned for Kane county.

With the convening of the grand jury to fix responsibility for the death of Mrs. Lillian DeKing, slain in her home at Aurora by dry raiders, came an announcement from State's Attorney George D. Carberry. "No more shall investigators go on my payroll without my personal O. K." he said.

"No more shall search warrants be issued unless liquor has been purchased by a representative of the State's Attorney's office and no one else."

"It is the big fellows we are after, not families with a gallon or two for their own consumption."

"I do not approve of the kind of snooping done by Eugene Fairchild and had no idea anything like that was being done."

Fairchild's affidavit that he bought liquor at the DeKing home led to the raid and the death of Mrs. DeKing, the injury of her husband and the shooting of a Deputy Sheriff. At the Coroner's inquest he admitted he did not buy it himself, a friend, Philip Johnston of Batavia, having made the purchase.

It is generally believed most of Carberry's present staff of investigators will lose their jobs after the investigation. On this point the State's Attorney would only comment: "We learn by experience."

The stories of members of the DeKing family—accounts of the visit of the six deputy sheriffs the night of March 25 and events following—were to be heard by the jury today.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS
Geneva, Ill., April 24—(UP)—Three true bills charging murder or accessory to murder will be demanded of the special Kane county grand jury investigating the "dry" raid killing of Mrs. Lillian DeKing of Aurora, assistant prosecutor Robert A. Milroy said today.

Milroy, attorney for the DeKing family but acting as assistant to State's Attorney George D. Carberry said he would ask the grand jury for a murder indictment against the leader of the raiding party, Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith, who killed Mrs. DeKing, and accessory to murder indictments of Deputies Hale Treadwell and Charles Anderson. Milroy said he would ask indictments for perjury against Eugene Boyd Fairchild, investigator, who admitted he swore to a false affidavit of a purchase of liquor at the DeKing home. Fairchild was freed of a perjury charge when a justice of peace ruled his affidavit illegal because the name of the deity was not mentioned when the investigator swore to his statement.

Milroy appeared before the grand jury yesterday as a witness. He repeated his testimony at the inquest that he was talking with Mrs. DeKing on the telephone when she was shot by Deputy Sheriff Smith. Milroy said he was convinced Mrs. DeKing was killed as she was calling for help.

Milroy was reported to have admitted to the jurors that he once prosecuted Joseph DeKing, husband of the slain woman, for a liquor law violation, which resulted in a five day sentence for DeKing.

Got Hair Bobbed on Her 92nd Birthday

Chicago, April 24—(UP)—Mrs. Jane Elizabeth McLaughlin, who dared the frontier perils of the Indian rush of '99 to Pike's Peak, celebrated her ninety-second birthday yesterday by bobbing her silver white hair and getting a permanent wave.

Mrs. McLaughlin explained that she had to get "spruced up" for a birthday party. She went to the beauty parlor with her great-grandson, Richard Talbot, 13.

She was born in Columbus, Ohio, and raised at Kanawake, Ill., then an Indian trading post. Her husband, who died 27 years ago, was a lieutenant in the civil war. Three of her 11 children are living.

"Live with high ideals and go along with the young folks and you'll never grow old," Mrs. McLaughlin said.

TWO KILLED IN
RENEWAL GANG
WAR, CLEVELANDThe Homes of Two Police men Were Bombed
Early Today

Cleveland, O., April 24—(AP)—Cleveland gangsters hurled two dynamite bombs intended for police officers homes and killed two notorious members of their own forces here today in what Detective Chief Cornelius Cody described as the flaring up of internal strife in gangland and opening of a war of revenge against police.

Although two buildings were damaged by bombs, they injured no one, but police held up the killings of Morris Fuerstman and Isadore Shiller, nationally notorious characters, as among the most brutal in the records of the police department.

Bodies of the two men, still warm, were found in a ditch on the outskirts of the city. Ropes had been twisted around their necks, breaking and dislocating the neck bones and a six-inch ice pick had been driven into their heads.

Bombs For Police
Two dynamite bombs which police charged against harrassed bootleggers exploded within an hour of each other today in attacks upon two members of the police department.

One was planted at the home of Captain William A. McMasters and the other at a recent residence of Sergeant Patrick J. Holland, chief of the vice and liquor squad.

At the McMasters home part of a porch was torn away and all windows in the neighborhood were shattered. Mrs. McMasters and two children, William, Jr., 4, and Ruth, 3, were severely shaken. Frame porches were ripped from a four-apartment building where Holland lived until four weeks ago, windows were broken and occupants of the building were thrown from their beds.

The bombers left no clues and police said they believed the explosive was thrown from an automobile in each case.

McMasters is a veteran of the department sent to Central Station for success in cleaning out a notorious district. Holland's squad patrols the downtown district and Mack commands the automobile shotgun detail. All have been active against bootlegging and vice.

REYNOLDS WIRE

The schedule of home games, will open Sunday afternoon when the Reynolds team will cross bats with the Dixon Independents at the latter's field in the southwest part of the city. This will mark the first of a series of five games to be played to decide the city championship. An Elgin team had originally signed to play the Reynolds club Sunday, but Manager Charles Trotter today received a notice of cancellation.

"Smokey Joe" Miller has been signed with George McClintock to carry on the burden of pitching for the Reynolds team this season. At present McDonald and Condon are candidates for the regular catching position. The Reynolds team will play all of their home games at Reynolds' field, formerly Singer field east of the Borden condorsery. The Ottawa Moose team has been scheduled to play here Sunday, October 5.

Iowa Farmers Make
Threat to Limit
Corn Production

Chicago, April 24—(AP)—A threat upon the part of Iowa farmers to cease raising corn for distillate consumption unless they receive a stabilized price of $2 a bushel has been revealed here by Frank B. Yetter, Davenport, Ia., banker.

"Only 15 per cent of Iowa's annual corn yield of 480,000,000 bushels goes on the market," Mr. Yetter declared, "the rest is consumed in the state. Iowa farmers have realized that others fix the prices of things they buy according to the law of trade and they are going to apply the rule both ways from now on, or other products will grow on the land that produces the 15 per cent surplus."

NEAR CHICAGO

Chicago, April 24—(UP)—Floyd Wilson, 28, and Walter Beardsley, both of Rockford, Ill., were severely beaten by four men who robbed them as they were driving to Rockford from Chicago today.

The men forced the two to pull up to the curb in a suburb near Chicago and obtained $57. While three of the bandits pointed pistols at the two, another beat them on the heads with the butt of a shotgun.

Wilson and Beardsley managed to make their way two miles to a police station, from where they were taken to a hospital. It is feared both may have suffered fractured skulls.

FANCY FINANCE

Something new in the art of bad check passing has come to the attention of the police who have been asked to locate a man, using the name of James Jones, Jim, whoever he may be, recently passed a worthless check on a local merchant and when he left the store he was $17.50 richer than when he entered although he had purchased $18 worth of wares. The check was made out on one of the local bank's counter checks in the sum of $35.50. It was made payable to James Jones and was signed by E. J. Morgan & Co. Jim entered the store, arranged for the purchase of $18 worth of materials, which were paid for out of the check. He received the remainder in cash and left his purchases to be called for later. He has never returned for the purchases.

Sex Questionnaire

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

Thirty-one years ago today Spain declared war on the United States in answer to resolutions adopted by Congress, recognizing the independence of the Cuban republic.

These resolutions adopted on April 19, 1898, the anniversary of the battle of Lexington, the start of the Revolutionary War, and of the bloodshed of the Civil War on the streets of Baltimore, were in effect declarations of war on Spain.

As soon as they had been approved by the president, April 20, the Spanish minister asked for his passports, thus severing diplomatic relations. The following day, the American minister to Spain left Madrid.

On April 24 came Spain's formal declaration of war to create an enthusiastic patriotic sentiment in America. War had been expected since the sinking of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor in the middle of February. A tragedy in which 260 members of the crew lost their lives.

This crisis was always regarded as the start of difficulties with Spain and gave rise to the cry: "Remember the Maine!"

SCORE WERE MAROONED ON
NARROW WALLMost of 200 Threatened
Has Been Warned
of Danger

(BY GORDON M. SESSIONS)
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Quincy, Ill., April 24—(AP)—Twenty persons were left marooned on the levee along the South Quincy Gardens this morning as a new breach in the wall, which occurred at 7 a. m., widened from 66 feet to 100 feet before noon. A steel bottom boat was being rushed from Keokuk to the rescue.

Water from the Mississippi river was pouring in fast and the entire South Quincy Gardens district was expected to be under water before night.

Many Had Been Warned
The 200 residents of the district were warned immediately after the break and most of them vacated their homes at once. The 20 marooned on the levee were unable to beat the onrushing waters.

The river fell six tenths of a foot between the time of the break and noon.

At noon the water was lapping about thirty homes, newly constructed last fall and valued at approximately $150,000. The inundation covers 5,000 acres.

National guardsmen were patrolling the district and allowing none to enter without a pass. Red Cross officials also were on the scene with a number of tents to house the homeless families.

Other Levees Hold
North of here in the Lima Lake and Hunt districts the levees were in good condition and holding well today, and confidence of residents in the bottoms was returning as telephone reports came that the Mississippi had dropped about six inches since yesterday. Dikes in the Gregory district also held, but residents there were genuinely worried over soft spots.

An all day rain appeared to have set in here today.

FALLING AT HANNIBAL

Hannibal, Mo., April 24—(AP)—Unless heavy rainfalls in northern Missouri and in Iowa start a new rise, the Mississippi flood crisis here has passed and the river is expected to drop one foot in the next 24 hours, the United States Weather Bureau said today. The river began falling this morning. The stage was 21.4 feet.

The fall at Keokuk, Iowa, was 1.4 feet during the last 24 hours, and at Ottumwa, Iowa, the Des Moines river had fallen 1.4 feet this morning. Tain was falling in this section.

Some relief was felt today when the International Shoe Company, which was forced to close down one of its plants employing 1,800 persons, announced it expected to resume operations tomorrow. Many business buildings close to the river front still had several feet of water in their basements.

Girl Scouts Grow
Steadily Throughout United States

In connection with the drive for financial support for the Girl Scouts of Dixon, it is interesting to note that there are in the United States at the present time 190,309 Girl Scouts enrolled as active members, which shows an increase for the year of 22,384. This gives an indication of the rapid growth of the scout movement. There are 2,816 communities in the United States maintaining Girl Scout troops.

The Dixon Committee is endeavoring to raise $1,000 to finance the scout activities for the coming year and it is hoped that the public will give them generous support. Contributions may be mailed to Mrs. E. H. Prince, 709 E. Second St., who is treasurer of the committee.

Grain Elevator at Stratford Burned

Polo, Ill., April 24—(Special to The Telegraph)—The elevator and feed mill owned by Edward Dusing at Stratford, six miles east of Polo, was destroyed by fire about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon with a loss of about $12,000. The blaze was discovered by Kenneth Dusing, who was grinding feed when the power went off and he went to the basement where the engine was located to find out the trouble. He found the basement ablaze. It is believed a backfire from the motor ignited the gasoline tank. A hundred bags of salt in a salt shed adjoining were saved, but the shed was destroyed along with the other buildings. Twelve hundred bushels of oats were burned. The buildings were built five years ago.

INCOME TAX LAW IS PASSED TODAY BY STATE SENATE

Measure, Taxing All Incomes Under Five Thousand to House

BULLETIN.

BY B. P. BOLTON

(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Springfield, Ill., April 24—(AP)—Influence of the late Lee O'Neil Brown, uncompromising enemy of the bill limiting industrial hours of women to eight a day, was felt in the Illinois House of Representatives today as a crippling amendment was tacked onto the bill by a vote of 55 to 67.

The amendment would exempt from the eight hour day provision all women employed in hotels, restaurants and mercantile establishments employing less than ten women. It is an amendment offered at many past sessions by Rep. Brown, which lawyers of the House have declared would make the bill unconstitutional.

O. O. Burns who has had several years experience in the dyeing and clearing profession will be plant superintendent. Branches will be established in many of the surrounding towns and a fleet of motor trucks will operate from the Dixon plant.

The new Dixon industry will be in operation about the latter part of next week.

Only two downstates joined the Chicago contingent in opposing the income tax. They were Senators Michael of Peoria and Senator Miles of Rock Island.

Introduced by Senator Simon E. Lantz of Congerville, it was called up for passage this morning. Two Chicago Senators, Hughes and Boehm, spoke briefly against it, and then the vote. Senator Dunlap of Savoy immediately moved reconsideration to block a similar move by the opposition.

Lantz, followed by moving to table Dunlap's motion, thus effectively clinching today's action.

Supported by Farmers.

Supported by organized agriculturists of the state, the bill provides for a state tax of one percent on incomes not exceeding $5,000; two percent on incomes between $5,000 and $10,000 and three percent on incomes over $10,000 a year.

An exemption of $1,000 would be allowed single persons; and $2,000 for married persons, and $500 for each dependent.

Eighty-four million dollars of taxpayers' money will have been juggled by the Illinois House of Representatives here today's session ends.

Yesterday money measures totaling $23,732,750 were lumped on a step on the House calendar and the House Appropriations committee reported out additional bills totaling $15,791,500. Today, not attempting to count the bills which will be advanced or passed, the appropriations committee plans to dispose of an additional $45,370,000 worth of bills.

Waiting for Senate.

At the end of today's meeting, the House committee will be in the unusual position of waiting on the Senate. Heretofore this session the House has received the discredit for slowing up the session.

The committee will have disposed of every code department and state officers bill except those for the departments of Finance, and Registration and Education, which are still pending in the upper branch; and the Department of Labor's bill, which was referred to a sub-committee.

Bills advanced yesterday on the legislative calendar included $50,000 for a roster of Illinois soldiers; $12,860,501 for the Department of Purchases and Construction; $4,252,745 for the state normal schools; $363,440 for the Department of Public Works, $4,709,000 for the Department of Agriculture, $25,000 for a Waterway Commission, $200,000 for an armory at Cairo, $225,000 for an armory at Decatur, $165,000 for the Chicago Naval Militia Armory, $608,798 for Washington, April 24—(UP)—One of the occupants of the smoke screen shooting, liquor running automobile was killed today and his companion was captured by police after a chase on foot. Fifteen cases of liquor were found in the automobile.

The victim was identified as Ottom Herman Fleming, 21. The other occupant, Jack Stevens, fled after the tires had been shot from the machine, but was caught.

Dense clouds of smoke shot from the exhaust of the automobile as Patrolmen C. O. Rouse and B. R. Campbell took up pursuit. Their vision obscured, the policemen fired blindly, aiming low to puncture the tires. Some of the bullets went high, killing Fleming.

The same automobile is believed to have eluded capture on four previous occasions by throwing out the screen or smoke.

Twice, a patrolman narrowly escaped death when the smoke suddenly shot out from a fleeing machine and shut out sight.

The smoke was believed to have been caused by injecting chemicals into the exhaust pipe.

London, April 24—(AP)—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, told the House of Commons today that the British government shared fully the hopes and wishes of the United States government on disarmament as set forth in Ambassador Gibson's speech at Geneva on Monday.

THE ALPINE ROSE
Translated for the Christian Science Monitor

SET in brown moss, high on the mountain,
Midst gleaming ice, and winter snows,
There rises quaint, as from a fountain,
A poem sweet—the alpine rose.

There are no mellow breezes vying
To kiss her waking leafy lace;
She, like a smile, is beautifying
The rocky mountain's rugged face.

The glacier walls rise up with a bold
ness,
Up-towering strong, through storm
and stress,
The alpine rose, despite the coldness,
Blooms on like secret happiness.

Employees of the Dixon Theater and their husbands or wives, as the case might be, and a few friends, entertained on Monday night after the last performance at the theater with a party at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rorer on Second street, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Gregory, the drummer in the Dixon Theater Orchestra, and his bride. Mr. Gregory was married recently to Miss Kelly of Danville, Ill., notice appearing to that effect last week in this paper. Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, who are residing in the Dr. Rice residence on Lincolnway in North Dixon, were very happily surprised but recovered almost immediately and entered into the gay spirit of the evening. Cards, radio music, etc., were the diversions enjoyed by the twenty-six guests present, and a very tempting supper was served. Decorations of spring flowers were very pretty.

During the evening as a token of good will and affection, the friends assembled, presented to Mr. and Mrs. Gregory a handsome electric waffle iron in three pieces, this handsome gift being graciously accepted by the young couple who value it highly and the thoughts of friendship accompanying the same, the donors wishing them every happiness for the future. At a late hour the guests sought their homes with the memories of a decidedly happy evening remaining with them.

Disbud Rhododendrons to Save from Suicide

Rhododendrons, especially when they are newly transplanted, are likely to commit suicide if they are neglected. It isn't that they mope and pine and refuse nourishment. They are far too robust to go into a decline. Instead of blowing their brains out they bloom their heads off. They will so overload themselves with flower buds that when these open with a glorious burst of color the energies of the plant are utterly drained. That is why, according to the May American Home, bud pruning is essential to the health and happiness of the Rhododendron.

It is easy to tell in advance what your Rhododendron's blooming intentions are. The flower clusters, unlike chickens, may be counted eight or nine months before they are hatched. By the end of August you can tell how many trusses to expect in May or June. If there are so many buds that the plant seems likely to be strained by excessive flowering, the excess should be removed.

Careful Cutting Needed

To disbud, cut out the flower bud only, using a sharp knife. Be careful to cut no lower than necessary, or you will remove the small buds just below, from which new stem and leaf growth must come.

Immediately after the blossoms fade, most Rhododendrons put out several inches of new growth, branching from the tips that have not flowered, and a little later around the flower clusters themselves. Disbudding usually increases the number of new tips, giving a denser and fuller shrub.

Plenty of foliage is essential to the Rhododendron's beauty as well as to its health, says the American Home article. Too great profusion of bloom, while striking, affords less real beauty than a moderate amount of bloom. Flowers should not hide the leaves, for otherwise the shrub lacks contrast both of line and of color.

Pets Used to Match Attire

London, Apr. 23.—(UP)—The craze for pets to match apparel has resulted in a new business here.

It is now possible to walk into a dog fancier's store in the west-end of London and hire a dog to match the particular dress or suit you are wearing.

Orders are already being booked for large black and white dogs to go with the magpie two-piece costumes that are being designed for Ascot, while at present the brindle-colored dogs that go so well with country clothes are finding themselves most popular.

Some of the temporary owners even go a step further and take the dogs to dress shows where they match patterns against their coats.

Simple Water System At Moderate Expense

Urbana, Ill., Apr. 24.—(AP)—How one young farmer and his wife operating a tenant farm put a simple water system in the kitchen of their rented home at a cost of only 1 2-3 cents a day for the period of their five-year lease has come to light in connection with the present state campaign and contest for running water in every Illinois farm home. The movement was recently launched by the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois and the Illinois Home Bureau Federation, cooperating.

The case is cited by Miss M. Attie Souder, home management specialist of the college, as evidence that home owners and operators of modest means can enter the contest and modernize their homes without the expenditure of large sums of money.

Thirty dollars is what the simple water system cost the young farmer and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Eysagbrood, Geneva. "It was certainly money well spent in that it has saved me in labor, time and health," Mrs. Eysagbrood reported incidentally, she was honored as one of Illinois Master Farm Homemakers last January.

When she and her husband moved into the home four years ago they found one soft water cistern located under a corner of the dining room. It was a good one, although small and decidedly inconvenient. A hole had been cut in the dining room floor through which the water could be baled out with a pail and rope and carried into the kitchen. In a back room, separated from the kitchen by the dining room, was a soft water pump but no sink. In the kitchen was a small sink but no water supply. Also the sink had been placed very inconveniently.

"This kitchen sink we removed, placed it by the pump in the back room and fixed up a drain from it. This made a convenient place for the men to wash. We then bought a new sink and soft water pump at our expense and enough galvanized pipe to lead from the back room cistern to the kitchen pump, which was some 30 odd feet. This solved the problem of water supply in the kitchen.

"We still had to work out the matter of a drain. The old sink in the kitchen had a piece of lead pipe leading out through the wall of the house and above the ground into a tile drain. This pipe not only would freeze in cold weather but also was unsightly, as it was at the side of the main entrance door to the kitchen.

"From the new sink we led the drain down through the kitchen floor into the basement and from there connected it up with the tile by means of a wall on a level with the tile. This prevented the pipe from freezing and was much more satisfactory from the standpoint of appearance.

"If we had not piped this soft water to the kitchen it would have meant that in order to get water I would have had to walk about 40 feet, step down three steps into the back room and carry water up the three steps, into the dining room and on into the kitchen."

The manner in which Mrs. Eysagbrood worked out the problem of a kitchen sink and drain board was especially ingenious, according to Miss Souder. There was not money for an expensive sink with a fancy drain board, so this convenience had to be supplied some other way. What Mrs. Eysagbrood did was to place a table so that it was flush with the left edge of the sink. She then purchased a dish drainer with a metal bottom and an open end so that when it was set on the table the dishes drained directly into the sink. The table was put on casters so that it could be used as a wheel tray and table.

The splendid and generous gift of Charles R. Walgreen of a completely equipped airport to the City of Dixon certainly fills Dixon people with a great sense of gratitude to the head of the great chain of drug stores who has so handsomely remembered his old home town.

When the airport is dedicated, or at any time convenient to Mr. Walgreen, Dixon should stage the biggest holiday party the city ever had, with Mr. Walgreen as guest of honor.

BOOTLEGGING DOESN'T PAY.

The bootlegger, as everybody knows, makes a lot of money. If he is energetic and lucky, he can become a millionaire in a short time. But don't be in too big a hurry to envy him. The job, it seems, has its drawbacks.

In Kansas City one of the most prominent bootleggers was Frank De Mayo. He was arrested, eventually, and brought to trial. Four times he won a disagreement; it looked as if he never could be convicted. But one day recently he went to court, pleaded guilty, and took a sentence to the penitentiary.

Why? Because, he says, bootlegging doesn't pay. De Mayo is very rich, but the uncertainties, dangers and constant worry of the trade counterbalance his big income. "You can't beat this game," he says. "I want to do my time and be a free man. No more bootlegging for me."

THE SPEED OF THE PLANE.

The advantages of aerial travel are strikingly demonstrated by the action of David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy in charge of aeronautics, who commutes, week-ends, from Washington to his home in Cleveland.

Flying his own plane, Ingalls is able to reach his Cleveland home in less than three hours from the time he leaves Washington. When he closes his desk Saturday noon he jumps in his plane and gets to the Ohio city in plenty of time for dinner. Then he has Saturday night and all day Sunday and Sunday night at his home, taking off at 7 o'clock Monday morning and getting back to the capital in ample time to begin the new week's work.

The speed which the airplane gives is seldom better exemplified than in Ingalls' case. With that example before them, how long will it be before business men generally begin to follow suit?

TO RECONDITION THE HARTFORD.

Admiral Farragut's old flagship, the Hartford, lies in the navy yard at Charleston, S. C. The Navy Department has just rejected the request of New London, Conn., that the ship be towed there for exhibition as a patriotic memorial to the great Civil War sailor.

The Hartford, the Navy Department explains, is not seaworthy enough to make the trip, and the department has no funds with which to recondition it. It will be recalled, in this connection, that even the Constitution is not being reconditioned at the navy's expense; the general public contributed the necessary money.

Erie, Pa., spent its own money to recondition one of Admiral Perry's squadron, and the ship now draws many tourists annually to Erie. Probably the cost of reconditioning the Hartford would be more than New London would care to shoulder. It might be worth the city's while, however, to look into the matter.

The only kind of figures a few people in Europe who owe us money seem to use in their conversation are figures of speech.

A salvo of 21 guns was fired when King Victor Emmanuel left his palace in Rome the other day for the opening of Parliament. None of the shots was a hit, however.

Quite a few of the newspapers have referred to the new Mrs. Babe Ruth as an actress. The fact is she is a former Hollies beauty.

Gene Tunney and George Bernard Shaw have been traveling together in Italy. George Bernard Shaw is one of the men who picked Carpentier to beat Dempsey.

Marion Talley is quitting grand opera for the farm. Probably satisfying the ancient feminine desire for bargain-hunting.

There are three women named Ruth in Congress; Ruth Bryan Owen, Ruth Pratt and Ruth Medill McCormick. But at this date we don't know whether or not Congress will be just as ruthless as ever.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

The cow that jumped the moon real quick, soon disappeared, and rather slick. The Tines watched in great surprise to see what he had done. Said Clowdy, "Gee, I wish that I could jump like that, right through the sky. It looks like it is easy, and I'll bet it's heaps of fun." The old man laughed. "Ha, ha, ho ho! I guess you Tynymites don't know that if you tried that crazy jump you'd topple to the ground. And there would be no fun in that, because the ground is hard and flat. 'Tis best for all you Tines that some other sport be found."

"You're right," said Scouty. "We're safe here, and frankly there's no cause for fear. We will not jump away until there's some safe place to go." Then Coppy shouted, "Me, oh, my, as you go moving through the sky it's pleasant, Mister Moon Man, though you travel pretty slow."

"I'll tell you what," the Moon

Man said. "Look up, and you'll see overhead, the famous great big dipper, made of stars. It's very bright." The Tines looked, and not in vain, 'cause it was up there, very plain. No wonder it surprised them. It was such a brilliant sight. All of a sudden Clowdy had a hunch that really wasn't bad. "We'll run right up the Milky Way, and reach that thing," said he. "I'm sure the trip soon can be made. It's not so far. I'm not afraid. Whoever wants to go along, hop down and follow me."

So up the Milky Way they ran, as fast as anybody can. Said Carpy, "My, the dipper is a dandy place to hide." And then they reached it, all at once, and Clowdy said, "See! I'm no dunce. I told you we could reach it. Hurry now, let's crawl inside."

(The Thunder Man appears again in the next story.)

MOTHER'S TRIAL ON CHARGES OF TRUANCY CALLED

Continued for a Week After a Jury of Women is Secured

BY JAMES K. MARTINDALE
United Press Staff Correspondent
Chicago, April 23—(UP)—Aided by the counsel of 12 prominent women whose presence attracted a court room full of flappers, scrub women, gold coast society matrons and a few curious fathers, Municipal Judge Alfred O. Erickson today undertook to solve the "gin, jazz and girl" problem of modern youth.

Who is to blame for the institution of the "school kids' gin party? Whose fault is it that boys and girls of grammar and high school age are careening down the road to ruin in a sport model with one lax hand on the steering wheel and the other grasping a silver flask?

Those were the questions that the square-jawed jurist with the black-ribboned nose glasses hoped to find answers to as he summoned an unofficial jury composed of society women and prominent Chicago social workers to pass upon the guilt or innocence of Mrs. Jane Liston, who was charged with contributing to the truancy of her 15-year-old daughter, Coletta.

Result of Tragedy.
Coletta attended the grammar school gin party two weeks ago in which George Lux was killed. It was her story of the mad goings on of the young people that aroused educators, authorities and parents of Chicago to begin an intensive study of the so-called "youth problem."

After the handsomely dressed jury has assembled in the jury box Mrs. Liston was brought in to defend herself against charges, that she had aided her daughter in escaping attendance at school.

A long way from the "jazz mother" was Mrs. Liston. Her knuckles bore the evidence of hard work, wisps of her hair protruded from beneath her plain blue felt hat. The jury seemed surprised. They had been looking for one of those parents who are so involved in their own gin parties that they have no time to keep their children in the narrow path of obedience.

"Indifferent parents" were to be made an example of by Judge Erickson, who agreed with the educators, who sat upon the Lux inquest jury that here lay the real seat of the trouble.

Woman Was Frightened.
Mrs. Liston looked frightened. Her husband, a laboring man, stood in the rear of the room crowded with social workers and curious parents who had turned out for the widely heralded "test case." He took no part in the proceedings.

Young Coletta did not appear. Her mother, however, was accompanied by an attorney who spoke to Judge Erickson, after surveying the notables in the unofficial jury.

"Your honor," said the attorney, "there are several phases of this case that I would like more time to investigate. I would like to have a continuance of one week."

Judge Erickson frowned but granted the continuance.

Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCullough, prominent attorney, appealed to the judge against the photograph-ers who were edging closer to the jury box. She was allowed to leave before the booming of flashlights began.

Attaches Unimpressed.
Thus ended the first round in the city's attempt to solve the "gin, jazz and girl" problem. Attaches of the court, which hears scores of truancy cases every month, were inclined to see nothing unusual in the case of Mrs. Liston and her girl, Coletta.

Anna A. Gordon, President of the

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

BY AHERNS

World W. C. T. U., however, said she saw the case as "an important step in the right direction."

"I know young people the world over," said Miss Gordon. "I believe they are more advanced than ever before, but that merely means that they must have more scientific treatment. It is a good thing to have a case of this kind to awaken everybody's interest in the problem."

Judge Erickson explained that he called the women jurors to advise him on disposal of the case because he felt that "women are actuated by law more than men and are more sympathetic with problems of youth."

But look what happened when a third of the student body compared the four leading cigarettes with names concealed

THE WILLIAMS RECORD, TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 1929

'OLD GOLD' CHALLENGES AND WINS IN CIGARETTE 'TEST'

Challenging the statement appearing in the columns of The Record of February 26 that Williams men have a distinct preference for cigarettes as proven by the fact that that brand outsells competitors in local shops, the Old Gold company last Friday afternoon conducted one of its famous "concealed name tests" at Williams. As a result, Williams has joined the growing list of colleges and universities which have given Old Gold a plurality in such a contest, for out of the 234 votes cast, the challenging brand received 66 first choices, while two other leading makes could do no more than tie for second place with 59 votes apiece, and a fourth prominent brand received 50 preferences.

To admit no unfairness into the test, each brand of cigarette was denoted by one of five possible numbers, stamped on the black band concealing the name, so that comparison of numbers among those taking the test would have been difficult. The results of the voting, done entirely by number, were checked up by Secley '29, and A. Clark '30, Business Manager and Assistant Business Manager of The Record.

JONES PROTESTS COAST GUARD'S FIRING ON BOAT

The Former Yale Football Star Says Action of Guard is Outrage

Washington, April 23—(AP)—Assistant Secretary Lowman of the Treasury announced today the resignation of James R. Ingram, a temporary boatswain of the Coast Guard service who used a machine gun in trying to stop an alleged rum runner on the Miami river recently, had been requested.

DEFENDS COAST GUARD

Washington, April 23—(UP)—Assistant Secretary of Treasury Seymour Lowman, in charge of customs and prohibition, defended today as fully within the law the reported firing on the schooner T. A. D. Jones by a coast guard cutter, 50 miles at sea.

The Coast Guard, Lowman said, has ample authority to halt any American vessel on the high seas to ascertain whether it is violating any navigation or custom law and regulation. Foreign vessels may be stopped only within the 12 mile limit.

TO FILE PROTEST

New Haven, Conn., April 23—(UP)—"Tad" Jones' protest against the alleged bombardment of one of his colliers by a Coast Guard cutter off the Jersey Coast Sunday is expected to be filed in Washington today.

The former Yale football coach, who conducts a coal business, announced today his determination to find out why the cutter "Seneca" reportedly fired six shots at the collier "T. A. D. Jones" without warning.

"I'm not going to spare expense or trouble to get to the bottom of this thing," Jones told the United Press. "Outrage is the only word to describe it."

Jones said J. Frederick Baker, New Haven lawyer, would file official protest with Treasury Department officials.

House Member Would Shoot It Out With Louisiana Governor

Baton Rouge, La., April 23—(UP)—State Representative Gilbert Dupre's offer to "shoot it out" with Governor Huey P. Long gave an aura of old world romance to the political warfare in Louisiana today.

Thus far the challenge to a duel with guns has not been taken up by the youthful Governor, who is busy stumping the state in his own defense against impeachment proceedings in the Louisiana legislature.

The challenge was a result of Governor Long's Sunday night speech in Opelousas and was made by Representative Dupre in a speech in the House of Representatives. In his excitement, Dupre shouted:

"I do not carry dangerous weapons but I'll fight any man at the drop of the hat; I'll shoot it out with Long, and I'll shoot it out until he gets enough."

Dupre has been aroused by Governor Long's charge in his Opelousas speech that Dupre "traded his votes to get a committee job for his nephew and for appointment of himself as chairman of the House judiciary committee."

Corn Syrup Company Closes Plant While Sugar Probe's Made

Decatur, Ill., April 23—(AP)—The A. E. Staley Manufacturing Company, one of the largest corn sugar producing firms in the state, remains closed temporarily while officials investigate legality of sales to persons who might utilize the sugar for liquor making purposes.

Staley, the president, said yesterday they had decided to shut down until "we get our bearings" in the matter. The plant uses 10,000 bushels of corn a day and provides work for approximately 1,000 men.

Chicago, April 23—(AP)—Prohibition administrator Yellowly today said his office had nothing to do with the closing down of the A. E. Staley Manufacturing Company, one of the largest corn sugar producing concerns, at Decatur.

The Staley firm is reported closed while its officers investigate their liability in the sale of sugar for liquor making.

Yellowly said he is making a thorough investigation of all sugar markets, which may be supplying illegal distillers, but would not say what action, if any, is contemplated against specific firms.

"There is no federal restriction on the sale of sugar which is subsequently used for liquor making," he declared, "but when we can prove that sugar is sold knowingly for the purpose we can obtain conspiracy convictions."

Old World Scholar Died in Obscurity In Chicago Hospital

Chicago, April 23—(UP)—The tragic story of an old world scholar who died comparatively unknown in a hospital here last week after spending charity in a public institution was disclosed today in a publisher's announcement that the "History of Modern German Philosophy" by Dr. Herman Oscherowitz will be published soon.

Dr. Oscherowitz was identified as the postoffice clerk who died at Michael Reese hospital a week ago after a fall. City physicians recalled that he refused treatment in a charity institution. Friends found him and transferred him to the hospital and later arranged for his burial.

Dr. S. M. Melamed, Zionist leader, said Oscherowitz came to America 20 years ago as a brilliant philosopher. He was unable to adjust himself to American customs and after losing his slender savings in buying German marks was forced to take temporary jobs in the library and postoffice.

STOLE COPPER'S GUN

Evansville, Ill., April 23—(AP)—Carter Brunke just dropped in at the police station for a word with the boys in blue. There have been times when he visited the station not of his own volition.

"Committed any crimes lately?" inquired Officer Hubert Kelsh.

"Nothing to speak of," said Burke with a yawn. "No Ambition."

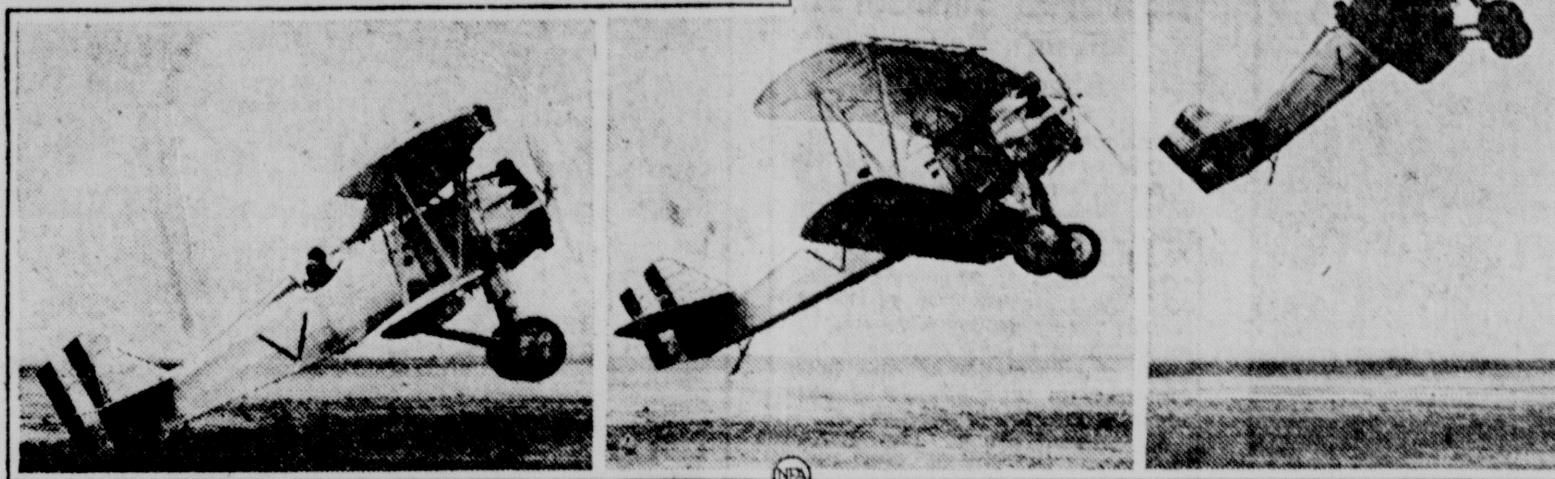

The phone rang and Officer Kelsh, placing his revolver on the desk, went to answer it. When he returned the gun and Brunke were gone.

From outside came the sound of gunfire, the policeman ran out and found Brunke blazing away at a tree.

"Larceny of one pistol," is what it says after Brunke's name.

Three cameras, stationed together at Cleveland airport, clicked a few seconds apart and caught perfectly the first three tests of the navy's new slotted-wing airplanes. The suddenness with which the planes leave the ground is shown above.

BITS OF WASHINGTON GOSSIP

By JOHN H. BYERS

Secretary to Congressman W. R. Johnson

Washington, D. C., April 21—When a small boy attending a country school in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, I read about Winchester, Va., and connected it with the poem, "Sheridan's Ride."

"And Sheridan twenty miles away." All school children have read that poem. All remember the story about the Confederate army marching through the Shenandoah Valley.

Driving the Union soldiers here and there, killing thousands of them. Sheridan heard of the retreat of the Union men and mounting his horse rode through the valley toward Winchester, hence the poem, "Sheridan's Ride."

Sheridan stopped the retreat and drove the Confederates south, preventing them from getting into the Capital City—Washington. Thursday and Friday of last week Winchester held its famous apple blossom festival and on Friday the day of the big parade—"Trail of the Pink Petals," 75,000 people gathered at Winchester to make merry and pay the apple blossom queer a proper and fitting welcome. I have always wished to visit Winchester on the days of the festival. And on last Friday—April 19th—my wishes were realized. With a party of friends I made the trip into the Shenandoah Valley, passing through three states—Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia—leaving, of course, the District of Columbia. The day was beautiful. The ride in the auto was pleasant and interesting. So many places of interest to see. It was a day of rest for me—the first I have taken all year—it was most enjoyable. Our party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Corbin, formerly of Lee Center, Illinois, their son, Donald, Mrs. Olga Callahan, secretary of Congressman R. A. Green of Florida, and myself. Mrs. Corbin prepared a lunch which we enjoyed on the top of the Blue Ridge mountains at Harper's Ferry, West Virginia.

Mr. Corbin is an attorney in the Internal Revenue Bureau—our car was a new Buick and it runs like a sewing machine up and down the hills of West Virginia.

Barbara Fritchie's Home.

We left Washington at 11 o'clock Friday morning and reached Frederick, Maryland shortly after noon, where we stopped a short time to see several places of interest. Among them the home of Barbara Fritchie.

"The clustered spires of Frederick stand, Green-walled by the hills of Maryland."

And viewed the old home from whose attic window Barbara leaned "far out" waving the American flag in the faces of Stonewall Jackson's army, as it marched "over the mountains winding down, horse and foot into Frederick town." It was inspirational to stand and look at the old brick home and think of the time when our country was going through its serious troubles—people of the north and south killing each other—for what? It was then I realized that in the auto was pleasant and interesting. So many places of interest to see. It was a day of rest for me—the first I have taken all Clear in the cool September morn."

"Up the street came the rebel tread, Stonewall Jackson riding ahead. * * *

"Halt!—the dust-brown ranks stood fast. 'Fire'—out blazed the rifle blast. 'Shoot, if you must, this old gray head, but spare your country's flag," she said. * * * And then I recited—

"Honor to her! and let a tear Fall, for her sake, on Stonewall's bier, Over Barbara Fritchie's grave, Flag of Freedom and Union wave! Peace and order and beauty draw Round this symbol of light and law: And over the stars above look down On thy stars below in Frederick town!"

Frederick is about forty-five miles from Washington. It has a population of 11,066. It is located in one of the richest sections of Maryland—yes, in the United States. The chief products of the farms are wheat and corn. Frederick county produces more gold fish than any other part of the United States. I visited the Chamber of Commerce office and chatted with the bright young secretary. We became friends in a very little while—for our interests are in common—building a city. The clearings of the Frederick banks for the year ending May 1, 1927, totaled $25,160,794.69. The water system is valued at $850,000 and is owned and maintained by the municipality itself. The city has a Y. M. C. A. building worth $150,000. The city operates her own light plant. In 1921 $40,000 was spent to improve this utility. I could write much more concerning this beautiful Maryland city, but I must pass on to Harper's Ferry, West Virginia—our next stop.

John Brown

We reached Harper's Ferry around one o'clock—nearly 2 o'clock, I guess. When you enter the city—small in size, but mighty interesting—you leave Maryland, crossing the bridge over the Potomac into West Virginia.

As you cross the bridge, behind you is Maryland, in front of you is West Virginia and to the right of you is Virginia—and all about you is beautiful Blue Ridge Mountains.

Well, it was time to tackle the lunch. Mr. Corbin drove his Buick up the mountain to the top, and there on a bench we sat, viewed the beautiful scenery—the Potomac River on one side and flowing quietly into the Potomac came the beautiful Shenandoah River—its very name breathes sentiment and romance.

We looked at the monument marking the location of John Brown's fort. Viewed the quaint old time homes, talked with the old timers, heard them sing the praises of Harper's Ferry, etc., and then pulled over the Blue Ridge into Bolivar, a small settlement of homes occupied by some of the aristocratic folk of West Virginia. In Bolivar we saw the quaint old house used by General Stonewall Jackson as headquarters when he was driving the Union army around in circles in and about Frederick.

Charles Town—Quaint City. We soon came to Charles Town, West Virginia. This is a quaint old town, a county seat. Here we saw the old court house where John Brown was tried and convicted of treason. A short distance is the old jail yard where he was "duly and properly executed."

into Virginia, with Berryville our next stop.

"And Winchester some miles away."

At 3 o'clock we pulled down a large hill into the valley and rolled quietly into the city of Winchester, Virginia, over the city's one long Main street. When we pulled up to the curb, the parade was passing, bands were playing, thousands were cheering—all about us were beautiful Virginia girls, stately men and women and laughing children, and the parade was passing. We arrived a little late but for one hour we watched the handsome floats, heard the bands, saw the marching firemen, Boy Scouts, pretty hospital nurses, State Guards and school children—a parade seven miles long and divided into seven grand divisions. There were 30 bands and 70 beautiful floats.

The Pretty Queen

Miss Jo Matthews, 20 year-old senior at the University of West Virginia, was the "Queen of the Shenandoah Valley," known as Queen Shenandoah VI." She sat on a beautiful pink, white and gold float, with 20 attendants—thousands cheered her as she passed along the street. Two governors were present—Byrd of Virginia and Conley of West Virginia.

And Harry K. Thaw of New York city, marched with the firemen.

It was a great festival for Winchester—it was a great day for our party.

All along the highway leading through the beautiful Shenandoah Valley—the Blue Ridge Mountains on one side and the Shenandoah River on the other, were thousands of apple trees covered with beautiful blossoms. The day was wonderful, the scenery inviting, romantic and interesting—the day was well spent. We arrived back in Washington at 8 o'clock feeling that we had profited immensely by our brief vacation from office duties and worries.

OVER HUNDRED JAP FISHERMEN DROWNED AT SEA

But 97 of 209 Known to be Aboard Picked up by Steamers

Tokyo, April 23.—(AP)—More than a hundred persons were believed drowned when the Japanese steamship Toyo Kuni Maru sank a few minutes after striking rocks off Capeerino in southern Hokkaido.

The vessel sank so quickly there was only time to send out a single S. O. S. Two steamers which reached the scene early this morning, saved several hours after the sinking, picked up 97 persons. Two hundred and nine were known to have been aboard when the ship sailed from Hakodate yesterday.

Several naval craft left Ominato to aid in the search but it was feared there was small prospect for other survivors.

The 176 passengers carried by the steamer were fishermen bound for Makchotka where they were to fish for crabs during the summer.

The disaster was believed due to bad weather in the wake of last Sunday's hurricane which was followed by a gale and a snowstorm off the coast of Hokkaido, and in the vicinity of Hakodate.

Search For Heiress of Man Found Dead In Barbecue Stand

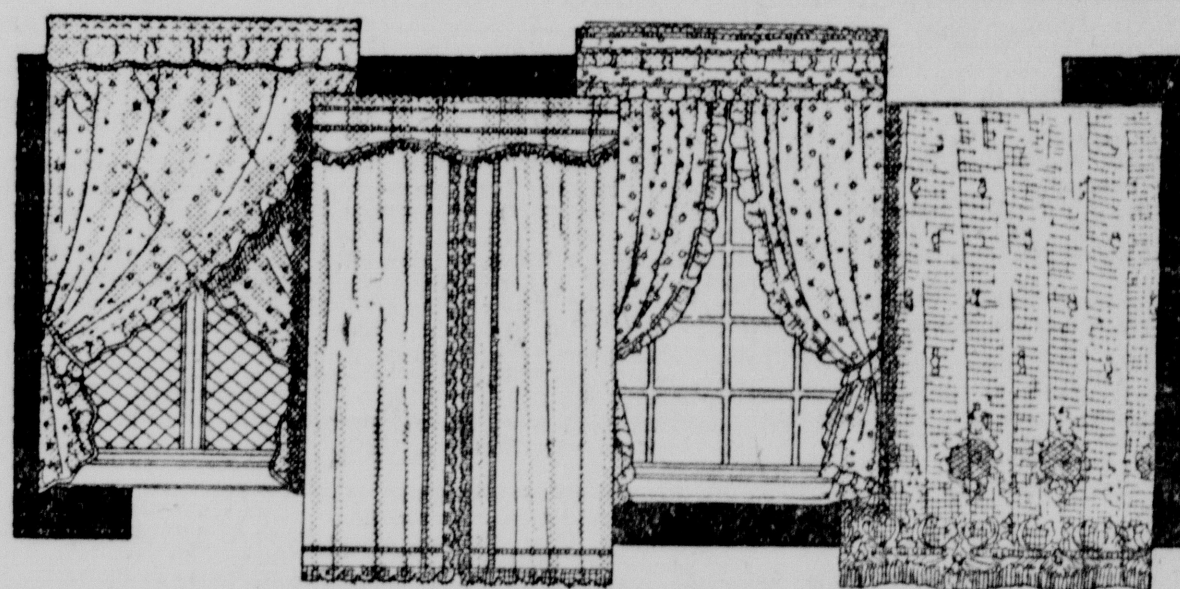

Springfield, Ill., April 23—(UP)—Search centered in St. Louis, Mo., today for Miss Fannie Kertin, whom officials believe will clarify the mystery surrounding a personal estate of $13,000 which came to light at an inquest here yesterday into the sudden death of Robert S. Churchill, found dead in a barbecue stand near this city Sunday.

Miss Kertin's name was written on a memorandum found on Churchill's body directing authorities to notify her in case of accident, giving St. Louis as the residence of Miss Kertin. A telegram directed to her yesterday failed to locate her, so St. Louis authorities were appealed to today to aid in finding the woman.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of "death due to an unknown form of heart trouble in connection with the death of Churchill."

The bulk of the fortune is in stocks held in the Central Illinois Public Service Company.

HOMECOMING OF GIANTS SUCCESS FOR THE PHILLIES

McGraw's Men Trimmed in First Home Game in 11 Innings

(BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN)

The home opening of the Giants was a complete success for the Phillies. In full view of 25,000 expectant fans at the Polo Grounds yesterday, the furious Phils tantalized the Giants for eleven innings, but finally romped away with the decision by 3 to 1 on Barney Friberg's triple in the final round with two aboard.

Claude (Weeping) Willoughby pitched against Larry Benton, who deserved better things. The Weeper passed 10 Giants, three of them intentionally, and filled the bases in four distinct innings. Out of these situations, the Clan McGraw squeezed the sum total of one run, forced over the plate in the seventh when Willoughby slipped on Hogan after having passed Roush by intent to fill the bases.

20 Died on Bases
John McGraw saw 20 of his troops die a horrible death upon the bases. 17 of them in nine innings. The home forces went down for the third time in the eleventh with three Giants idling away their time upon the paths.

The opening ceremonies had hardly been completed when Frank O'Doul, a former Giant, knocked a souvenir to his friends in the right field stand. Friberg's drive in the eleventh followed a single by Hurst and a pass to old Cy Williams, who served as pinch batsman for Lorian.

Having failed to make any impression upon the Chicago defense in pitching battles, the Cardinals turned loose their heavy guns in the final assault and won from the ambitious Bruins by 9 to 6.

The Braves lost to the Robins by 1 to 2 in eleven innings, but even so the defeat of the Giants left the Boston entry high and dry, clinging in a dazed fashion to the top of the ladder with not a disputant in sight.

The Brooklyn team gave its best efforts, but even these were not enough to lose with Vance in the box. The wild throws of the Robins infield sent terrified thousands to the safety of the upper stand.

In American League

The entire American League took hope at the further indication, in the opener at Boston, that the Yankees may just possibly be on the verge of a real, old-fashioned batting slump. The world champions collected six small singles, three of them by that sterling slugger, Leo Durocher, and the Red Sox won by 4 to 2. George Pippas was wild, but Fred Heilmann finished like a thoroughbred. Big Ed Morris refused to be dismayed at any time by the big Yankee bludge.

The Senators spoiled the Shibe Park debut of the Athletics by taking a 4 to 3 decision in eleven innings. This untoward happening prevented Professor McGillicuddy from occupying the lofty trappings upon which he has had his heart set for so long.

Instead, the Indians, who shaded the White Sox by 5 to 4, moved into the top floor, with the St. Louis Browns established, temporarily at least, in the quarters directly beneath them. The latest prank of the Browns took the form of an 11 to 6 victory over the Tigers in the final game of the series.

Deny Army and Navy Reached Agreement

New York, April 24—(AP)—A renewal of the oft-repeated rumor that Army and Navy were prepared to patch up their athletic differences has brought from officials of both institutions a denial that there has been any change in the situation.

The report, as printed in Chicago, had it that the rival service academies were ready to call a halt to verbal hostilities and resume football relations in a game to be played at Soldier Field, Chicago, in 1931. Soon afterwards authorities at West Point and Annapolis came out with

BLUE LARKSPUR

Blue Larkspur, a big brown colt by Black Servant-Blossom Time, may give E. R. Bradley his third triumph in the Kentucky Derby this year. The Bradley colt is the favorite to win, being held at odds of 5 to 1 in the winter books. And there is cause for this respect, for Blue Larkspur, entered in seven races as a two-year-old, Blue Larkspur won four, finished second once, third once and was unplaced once. His winnings totaled $66,970. The Derby favorite wintered well and is said to be the most solid favorite for the classic race in many years. Blue Larkspur's first engagement will be in the Preakness and he is regarded as a favorite for that event as well as the historic Derby.

statements professing entire ignorance of any such arrangement.

An Army spokesman at West Point said bluntly that there was nothing to the report. "Our rules are ours," he added. "We have no quarrel with the Navy and no hatchet to bury. If the Navy wants to play football games with us it knows the steps to be taken."

At Annapolis was said that no official at the Naval Academy knew anything about plans for a resumption of Army-Navy athletic relations, severed when the Army declined to grant the Navy's demand that West point adopt a three-year varsity eligibility rule.

OLD FAVORITES LEAD SLUGGERS END FIRST WEEK

Phillips, Detroit Backstop,
Newcomer, to Show
His Class

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, April 24—(UP)—Old favorites are setting the early pace for the major league hitters. Only one newcomer, Ed Phillips, Detroit catcher, has broken into the charmed circle in the early games. Lu Blue, veteran St. Louis Browns' first baseman, and Charley Jamieson, Cleveland outfielder, are tied for the batting lead in the American League along with Phillips. Each has an average of .500.

Three of the five leaders in the National League are veterans who are enjoying hitting sprees in new uniforms. Lefty O'Doul, who was traded to the Phillies last season by the New York Giants, and George Harper, who was shunted to the Boston Braves by the St. Louis Cardinals, are tied for the lead in the National League, each batting at an even .500 clip.

Hornsby is Fourth
Following Babe Herman, Brooklyn outfielder who holds third place, is Rogers Hornsby, last year's National League batting champion who was sold to the Cubs during the winter by the Braves. Hornsby is batting .402 and Hornsby .450.

The leading five hitters in each league follow:

Makes McGraw Sorry

O'Doul, who was up for a trial with the Yankees as a pitcher several years back but who is only in his second season as a major league outfielder, is fast making John McGraw sorry he let him go because he couldn't play left field. The lanky Irishman from the far coast clouted a home run—his third of the season—on his first appearance at bat yesterday against the Giants and added a double and a single before the day was done. Fred Leach, the man for whom he was traded, is sitting on the Giants' bench.

Not the least remarkable thing in connection with the early American League surprises is the heavy hitting of Lu Blue and Charley Jamieson. Blue was thought through when George Moriarty of the Tigers traded him to the Browns a year ago, but he played in every game last season and was one of the reasons why the Browns landed in third place. In eight games thus far Blue has hammered out 15 hits, scored 11 runs and hit three home runs, leading the American League in the latter respect.

With his job threatened by Bibb Falk, Jamieson who is now in his fifteenth season in the American League, is playing some of the best ball of his career. His great hitting and fielding have helped the Indians get away to a flying start. Fonseca is another Cleveland veteran who is playing better than ever before this spring. The former second baseman who got the Indians' first base job because there was no one else to play it seems likely to remain there all season.

Yesterday's hero—Barney Friberg, second-string shortstop, who tripled with two out and two men on base in the eleventh inning, giving the Philadelphia Phillies a 3 to 1 victory over the New York Giants in the opening game of the season at the Polo Grounds.

Pounding Blake, Carlson and Ovingros for sixteen hits the St. Louis Cardinals broke the Chicago Cubs' string of four straight victories with a 9 to 6 victory. The Cubs made fifteen hits off Sherdel but were unable to bunch them until the late innings.

eleventh scored Flowers with the run which gave the Brooklyn Robins their first victory of the season, over the Boston Braves, 3 to 2. Dazzy Vance held the Braves to six hits.

With Big Ed Morris pitching brilliantly the Boston Red Sox beat the New York Yankees, 4 to 2. Morris allowed but six hits, three of them by Durocher.

Hits by Goslin, Judge and Hayes enabled the Washington Senators to take an 11-inning game from the Philadelphia Athletics, 4 to 3. Al Simmons made his first appearance of the season in the Athletics' lineup as a pinch-hitter in the eleventh, drawing a walk.

Lu Blue's two home runs featured the St. Louis Browns' 11 to 5 victory over the Detroit Tigers. Gehring and McManus of the Tigers also hit homers.

Earl Averill's triple in the seventh scored two runs and tied the score and the Cleveland Indians beat the Chicago White Sox in the ninth, 5 to 4.

The Reds and Pirates were idle.

Hooks and Slides

ALL A WAR!

There is going to be some old-fashioned baseball in the National League this year when the New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs get together, according to the correspondents who have been covering the early season activities of the two clubs.

There was a time, not so far back in the past, when the arrival of the Cubs in New York and the Giants in Chicago was a matter of serious concern to the police officials.

In addition to all their other duties, the coppers had to protect McGraw from the irate customers and had to guarantee the safety of the person who happened to be managing the Cubs. In the good old days the manager of the Chicago Cubs happened to be "Huck" Chance and he didn't need many cops to take care of him. He was of the type who could handle cops himself. So was McGraw.

OLD RIVALRY BACK

It happens this year that the Cubs and the Giants are supposed to be

Four Horsemen of the Chicago Cubs

Notre Dame had a backfield a few years ago that was titled "Four Horsemen" and it lived up to its name against rival football teams. The Chicago Cubs have a quartet they term in the same manner this season and it should live up to its name in the baseball world as well as Knute Rockne's famous backfield did in football. It is shown here, reading left to right—Kiki Cuyler, Rogers Hornsby, Hack Wilson and Riggs Stephenson. And a little watching of their batting this season will explain why they are called "Four Horsemen."

running one-two for the National League pennant. And the pennant means a lot of dough for the athletes of any club that get in there.

It is the first time in many years that the Cubs and the Giants are in there with some actual rivalry. They had a hang-over spirit of hostility from the old days, but the Cubs had only their traditional inheritance of fight against the New Yorks.

Since the war days the Giants have had to make their fights against the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals, with an occasional scrap tossed in against the Brooklyn and the Cincinnati.

ONE OR THE OTHER

But this year the opinion seems to be that the Giants and Cubs are going to be first or second. They feel that way among themselves and when they get together in a series they likely will act that way.

Bad feeling between the two clubs started last season in the late days of the pennant race when the Giants were making their valiant but losing fight for the championship.

The Cubs were out of the race. They had had some miserable experiences with the poor Phillies of Philadelphia and they realized their chances were shot. But they were out to beat the Jints.

In one of those very late games Gabby Hartnett, the Chicago catcher, did a neat job of blocking when Andy Reese was coming into the plate with the winning run. He blocked Reese off the rubber until he got the ball and then he slapped it into the midst of his spine.

A GREAT UMPIRE!

Bill Klem, the National League umpire who admits modestly that he never made a mistake, called Reese out and the Giants raised hell. They raised such a fuss that Klem threatened to retire from baseball with his injured pride. But he didn't.

The Giants insist that Klem's wrong decision and Hartnett's "foul" cost them the pennant and all that dough and the New York players in their spring training camp were not hesitant in saying that it was going to be tough on Hartnett this season when any Giant was going into the plate with the winning run. And that it would be hard on the Chicagoans on every play.

And so say the Chicagoans about the Jints.

Chicago Stadium, April 24—The second section of the national Junior A. U. boxing tournament will get under way here tonight with the four heavier divisions competing.

Five thousand spectators paid $7,000 last night, and attendance was expected to be greater tonight.

The meet opened with the lighter boxers vying for places in the finals, which will be held Thursday night. Thirty bouts were run off and 25 bouts in the heavier bouts were scheduled for tonight.

Minneapolis, April 24—(UP)—Big Boy Peterson, 196-pounder of New Orleans, outpointed Harry Dillon, 181-pounder of Winnipeg in ten rounds last night.

Chicago, April 24—(AP)—Following the action of the Maryland Association, the Illinois Turf Association has granted a trainer's and jockey's license to Earl Sande.

Sande was one of the few to win 1929 permits as the Illinois turf board denied licenses to 16 jockeys and six trainers.

Collinsville, Ill., April 24—(AP)—With 1,036 miles of their 3,400 mile journey completed, the 28 survivors in C. C. Pyle's bunion derby moved into another state today. They were headed for Maplewood, Mo., a jump of 30 miles. The starting time was 9 o'clock, two hours later than usual.

Pete Gavuzzi, bearded Italian of Southampton, England, was protecting a three hour lead over Jimmy Salo, the flying cop of Passaic, N. J., when the blister brigade moved out of Collinsville this morning. Salo's victory yesterday in the 59-mile grind from Vandalia firmly entrenched him in second place.

Chicago, April 24—(AP)—Gerald Ambrose Griffith, the tough one from Sioux City, Ia., will have his chance to win the world's light heavyweight championship next month.

Promoter Paddy Harmon of the Chicago stadium said today he had tentatively closed with Tommy Loughran title holder, to meet Griffith May 24. They will box at the weight limit of 175 pounds. The match may be set back as Griffith is disabled because of a damaged bone in his right hand. He believes, however, the hand will be normal with ten days rest.

Chicago, April 24—(AP)—Minnesota, one of the feared "dark horses" of the Big Ten baseball championship struggle, has fallen by the wayside.

Ohio State, a team which had dropped its first three championship games, solved the Gopher threat, defeating them in two straight games. Monday, the Buckeyes won, 7 to 4, and yesterday, they repeated, 6 to 5.

Two games, one of them involving an undefeated team, were on the conference program today. Purdue, which won its first two games against Northwestern and Ohio State, invaded Chicago, and Illinois was at Northwestern, seeking revenge for the setback the Wildcats handed out last Saturday.

Des Moines, Ia., April 24—(AP)—The first of nearly 3,000 university, college and high school athletes headed for Des Moines today, set on individual championships and team titles at the twentieth annual renewal of the Drake University relays, Friday and Saturday.

Officials of the relays called it the greatest array of talent ever gathered here. The classic events of the meet appear to be the 100 yard dash and the pole vault, but the hurdles, the javelin, the high jump, the broad jump, the shot put, the discus, all promise to find anywhere from a pair to a dozen athletes battling to the last to win.

Friday morning events are limited to preliminaries in the class "B" high school events, but the afternoon program of the opening day offers preliminaries in special events in which both university and college athletes will compete and includes the 100 yard dash with such sprinters as Claude Bracey of Rice Institute. Another Friday preliminary is the

PEDRICKS

Why is it that in practically every town you will find that PEDRICK HEAT SHAPED RINGS are being used more and more every day? Why is it that the majority of cars a year or more old in and around DIXON have PEDRICKS in them and that PEDRICKS are giving a satisfaction that no other piston rings give?

PLENTY OF REASONS!
PEDRICKS are HEAT SHAPED and do not lose their tension. PEDRICKS will stop excessive amount of oil used. PEDRICKS will give a motor more power and pep. PEDRICKS will deliver far more miles of service than others. PEDRICKS will stop crank case dilution which means better lubrication. PEDRICKS are low priced piston rings with features that no other rings have. Think this over. Why have the same kind of piston rings installed in your motor that caused you trouble. Tell your repair man that you WANT PEDRICKS and nothing else but PEDRICKS.

LAUGHS from the DIAMOND

BY BILLY EVANS

The fact that Tommy Connolly, dean of the American League umpires, has survived 36 years of umpiring will give you a real insight into his temperament. Firm, but diplomatic, the possessor of a keen sense of humor, he has made his arduous task far easier than most officials.

Connolly, on the ball field, has a serious look that really belies his real character. His severe mien would case one to believe he was thoroughly disgusted with life. Yet, just the opposite prevails.

In a game I have in mind, Connolly an old timer was working in Boston. He lives, by the way, only a short distance away, at Natick, Mass., and Hafey, Cardinals, among others, is a well-established belief among umpires that it always is difficult to umpire in one's home town. Boston is regarded as Connolly's home town.

In this game, it seemed as if a majority of the plays were going against Boston. The Sox were taking a trimming, much to the disgust of the fans. And, as it often happens at such moments, the fans turned to the umpire to get their money's worth at his expense.

"Don't you ever smile, Connolly?" cried one rooster. From the start of the game, he voiced that question and he kept repeating the same old line all through the game.

It seemed the more the fan asked the question, the severer became Connolly's expression. Possibly Tommy was playing up to him. It caused considerable laughter at Tommy's expense, but before the finish it became decidedly monotonous.

To get to our dressing room, we had to pass close to the box occupied by Connolly's tormentor. When within 15 or 20 feet of it, the fan let out what he felt would be his final blast: "Don't you ever smile, Connolly?"

Connolly, in his best voice and severest face, came back with: "Did you ever see the villain in a show smile?"

THE severe tests made of Cities Service oil products are like the tempering of steel. That ten-gallon fill-up which you get at the black and white pumps of the Cities Service stations has been through 12 tests before it reaches you. This is possible only because the Cities Service organization spends each year a million dollars in research and experimental work, to improve its products and services.

Performance rather than promise is the Cities Service criterion of value. The Company devotes itself to the production of oil products which need no extravagant claims to promote their sale. They stand on their own power legs. That is the reason behind "Once—Always."

No Annulment for Pretty Heiress, Secret Bride

All the Guggenheim millions and the reported opposition of the Guggenheim family didn't make any difference in the story-book romance of 18 year old Natalie and the son of a small town freight agent. For the pretty heiress, pictured above, and Thomas M. Gorman, young real estate and insurance broker of Port Washington, Long Island, were secretly married weeks ago and there seems to be nothing that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond A. Guggenheim, can do about it. Gorman, whose father for years was a railroad freight agent, scoffed at reports of annulment of the marriage and denied Mrs. Guggenheim's quoted statement that he had been ordered from Natalie's home by the copper magnate.

Denies Knowledge of Fatal Quarrel

"I didn't know anything had happened. I was sitting back in the taxi and didn't see what went on." Police released Mrs. Robert L. Brown, Lexington, Ky., society woman, after she gave this explanation of the fight over her in which Arthur Morran Smith, Cleveland millionaire, was alleged to have received the injury which resulted in his death. Smith had engaged in an altercation with Samuel W. Bell, wealthy oil promoter, in front of a fashionable New York hotel.

"Bully, Old Chap!"

The smiling, applauding person above is Gentleman Gene Tunney. And you'd never guess where the cameraman found him. At a bull fight in Madrid, Spain! Which goes to show that you never can tell what a boy will do when he gets away from home. And it makes one wonder, too, if there was a little bull not only in the arena, but also in Gene's announcement that he would have nothing to do with fighting of any kind. When this scrap was over, the torador gave Mr. Tunney a special trophy.

Jobless Man Stabbed Wife and Daughter, Then Cut His Throat

Chicago, April 23—(AP)—Jobless, without funds, and despondent, William Shannon, 65 years old, stabbed his wife, turned the blade on his daughter Harriet, 18, and then took his own life with the same weapon last night.

He was found dead in bed, his throat cut. On the floor nearby was the unconscious form of his wife, so seriously wounded that she probably will not live. The daughter, bleeding from knife wounds on her hands and face, fled screaming from the house.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

MILDRED LAWRENCE meets STEPHEN ARMITAGE when he rescues her fox fur from a thief. Their friendship grows until PAMELA JUDSON, daughter of Mildred's employer, tries to lure him away from her. RICK CONNOR becomes infatuated with PAMELA and she plays both men. Her brother, HAROLD, is in love with Mildred, who tries to keep him from gambling with Rick's crowd.

When Stephen continues seeing Mildred, Pamela tells him she is trying to marry Harold for his money. He defends the girl and Pamela cables her father to discontinue her. Harold tries to have Rick reinstated, but fails. Pamela succeeds in poisoning Stephen's mind against Mildred and the latter faces dreary days in search of work. Then Pamela tries to break with Rick and when he objects tells him she and Stephen are engaged.

Stephen commands Harold to prevent Pamela's marriage to Stephen under fear of exposure concerning a forged check. Harold tells him he can't force Pam so Rick plans to dispose of Stephen.

A prospect guarantees to buy a new model car if Stephen can make it do a hundred, and is taken out in the country for the demonstration. After the test the man who he wanted him to stop at a friend's house on the way back. Stephen walks into their trap and the car is stolen from him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVI

WHEN Mr. Mettle, red-faced and highly agitated, banged up the receiver after talking to Stephen he whirled about in his chair and ordered his secretary to get the insurance people on the wire immediately.

Shortly thereafter they sent Carl Short, one of their best men, and Mr. Mettle went over all that he knew of the theft. The investigator listened in silence, not once interrupting him. But when the irate manager spluttered to the end of his recital the other began to ask questions.

Did Mr. Mettle know anything about J. B.'s place? He didn't.

"It's a sore spot on Long Island," Short said quietly.

Mr. Mettle looked startled.

"A hangout for gangsters," Short went on, "smaller fry."

Mr. Mettle began to sputter again. What was Armitage doing in such a place?

"Precisely," the investigator nodded.

"He'll be here before long," Mr. Mettle declared with a thought in his mind that foreshadowed an uncomfortable session for Stephen.

"I told him to come in as soon as the police were through with him."

"That may not be for an hour yet if they know anything out there about J. B.," the other said, glancing at his watch. Then he looked at Mr. Mettle's secretary. She was unaffectedly listening. He asked her to work in another room.

"Now let's have the history of the young man," he said when she had nervously taken her departure.

"Well," Mr. Mettle began, thinking back over Stephen's record, "he came to me from a firm in Indiana, pretty well recommended. Just one mark against him. He got a fool idea about trusting people that resulted in the theft of several cars."

Suddenly he paused and looked at the investigator with astonishment. The association of Stephen's connection with those thefts and the present one had not before occurred to him. He was now surprised that it hadn't.

"What was that?" Short became intensely interested on the instant.

Mr. Mettle explained about Stephen's honor system, but as he talked he felt that the facts were too blunt. After all, Stephen was just a young fool. Took too many chances, perhaps, but—

Mr. Mettle was ready to annihilate Stephen for having allowed the sports car to be stolen, but he was not prepared to believe him a thief.

The important point was that neither he nor Short had put the thought into words. Yet each knew that the other entertained it. And right here Stephen's trouble began to take definite form. For the investigator now had his premise ready made for him.

He continued to question Mr. Mettle until he learned all that the latter knew about Stephen. The young man's friendship with Pamela Judson, which Short mentally checked as requiring liberal funds, his loans from the other salesmen, and, finally, his urging Mr. Mettle to let him demonstrate the sports model in a road test. These were the highlights in Stephen's life that reflected suspicion. The theft of the car and the big mistake in Stephen's earlier career were matters that needed only suspicion to fasten them upon him as definite charges.

By the time Stephen reached the office Mr. Mettle had been warned not to say anything to put him on his guard, "until we've finished our investigation," Short had said. "If there's nothing against him, you'll be glad to know it."

"WHOOPEE" ECHOES DEMAND REVELERS BROUGHT TO TRIAL

State's Attorney to Ask In- dictment of Sanitary Dist. Officials

Chicago, April 23—(UP)—Echoes of the $6,900 Broadway "whoopie party" of the Chicago Sanitary District, revealed to a special grand jury, rebounded from the State's Attorney's office today with a demand for conspiracy indictments against the former president and seven trustees of the sanitary district board.

Assistant State's Attorneys John E. Byrne and Thomas Shusser announced they would go before the grand jury and demand the first true bills growing out of the four-month investigation of the Sanitary District.

The two prosecutors said they would cite the basis for their demands a "whoopie" party at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York in November 1927 and the $120,000 bill for printing of the annual message of the president. Payment of $6,900 for wrecked furnishings in the New York hotel and payment for the president's message both were approved by the trustees, the prosecutors said.

The former president of the Sanitary District is Timothy J. Crowe, Democratic leader, who was alleged to have overruled the suggestion that members of the Broadway party pay out of their own pockets for the damages at the Waldorf.

"Flood Relief" Party
The party was revealed by Arthur Mathiesen, former private secretary to Crowe. Mathiesen it was said told how 130 trustees and members of the board set out to Washington to support flood relief measures but were sidetracked and proceeded on to New York where they attended a football game and climaxed the "relief mission" with a gay and expensive night on Broadway. The Waldorf's bill represented chairs, tables and fixtures allegedly thrown out of windows by the reveling members of the party. Mathiesen said the district also paid $4,200 for a special train and a supply of champagne, whiskey, gin and beer with which the "flood relief" train was stocked.

The prosecutors charge that the district was charged $120,000 for printing Crowe's annual message and distributing 700,000 copies. Only 200,000 copies can be found, it was charged, and records show that only 100,000 copies were mailed to the taxpayers.

Actress' Annoyer Arrested in N. Y.

New York, April 23—(AP)—Dale Effend, who said he came here from Chicago seven months ago, was sentenced to six months in the workhouse today for annoying Jeanne Eagels, actress and her sister. He will first be kept under observation for 10 days at Bellevue hospital.

On complaint of the sisters that Effend had been annoying them and after a policeman had reported seeing the man try to choke the actress on Riverside drive, police were stationed near the Eagels' apartment and overpowered Effend when he appeared.

He had an odd assortment of articles in his pockets including a can opener, several razor blades, and a table knife and fork.

Effend said his mother, Mrs. Hattie Effend lived at 1540 12th street, Moline, Ill.

er too young for correction, as far more can be done for the child early in the condition, and much of the vision saved.

Cross-eye, the specialists tell us, may occur at any age from a few weeks to 12 year, but usually develops between the ages of two and six. It is due to the inability of the child to fuse into one image the objects looked at with the two eyes, and is occasioned by a demand for focusing power that is not equal for the two eyes. This may follow an illness, or an injury, or a fright.

To overcome this unpleasant situation, nature causes the eyes to be turned in at a greater angle than they should be for the distance of the object. To correct the double vision that follows, the eye that sees better is used while the other eye turns in more. The child learns to disregard the image seen by the turned eye, and in time the vision is almost destroyed. This is evidently what had been happening to the boy in our story.

Formerly parents accepted cross-eye when noted with resignation, unaware that their physician should be consulted at once. We now are taught that the earlier glasses are prescribed the better is the chance for straightening the eyes. No baby is too young for this treatment, once the condition is diagnosed. If early corrective treatment is not instituted, operation measures may become necessary to correct the faulty position.

Children with cross-eye are nervous, irritable and difficult to manage. One writer says, "It is almost unheard of for a child to be injured from glasses, but the wearing of glasses has protected many eyes from injury."

Do not put off consulting an eye physician until the child is "old enough" to treat. Many parents have learned the gravity of this condition for the first time when a child has been brought to a health conference or to a contest for examination.

Keeping babies under medical supervision from birth would insure an earlier discovery of developing defects and consequently, earlier correction.

Out of the faucet
Into the dishpan

There it comes, hard city water. Dishes to be washed, and only hard city water to wash them in. You know what will happen, don't you? The soap will mix with the hard water, and form a dirty scummy ring around the edge of the dishpan. How can dishes really get clean in that water?

Melo will soften the hardest water and make it a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. No dirty ring, grease cut, dirt dissolved. Soap much more effective! Bring on your hard water! Then bring on Melo! Get a can of Melo today at your grocer's.
